

YOUR PHARMACY BENEFITS

Get the most from your plan's coverage.

Under your plan, both your covered medical and prescription medication costs count towards your plan's deductible and out-of-pocket maximum.

How your pharmacy benefits work.

When you fill a prescription at an in-network pharmacy, what you pay depends on your cost-share for the medication and your annual deductible (the amount you pay out of your own pocket for covered services before your plan starts covering part of the costs).<sup>1</sup> Once you meet your deductible, for the rest of the plan year, you'll pay a copay or coinsurance for covered services, while your plan pays the rest.

If you're enrolled in a Health Reimbursement Account (HRA) or Health Savings Account (HSA) plan through Cigna, you may be able to use your funds to help pay for your eligible out-of-pocket expenses. Review your plan materials for more information.

Save money by choosing a generic.

When it comes to prescription medications, you and your doctor usually have a choice between a brand name medication and its generic equivalent. Generics offer the same strength and active ingredients as the brand name medication but often cost much less – in some cases, up to 85% less.<sup>2</sup>

Health benefit plans vary, but in general to be eligible for coverage a drug must be approved by the Food and Drug Administration (FDA), prescribed by a health care professional, purchased from a licensed pharmacy and medically necessary. If your plan provides coverage for certain prescription drugs with no cost-share, you may be required to use an in-network pharmacy to fill the prescription. If you use a pharmacy that does not participate in your plan's network, your prescription may not be covered, or reimbursement may be limited by your plan's copayment, coinsurance or deductible requirements. Refer to your plan documents for costs and complete details of your plan's prescription drug coverage.

SPECIALTY DRUG LIST

Starting July 1, 2020

Specialty medications are used to treat complex medical conditions like multiple sclerosis, hepatitis C and rheumatoid arthritis.

About this drug list.

This document shows the most commonly prescribed oral and injectable specialty medications covered as of July 1, 2020.<sup>1,2</sup> All of these medications are approved by the U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA). Medications are listed alphabetically; Brand name medications are capitalized and generic medications are lowercase. The Specialty Drug List is updated often so it's important to know that this is not a complete list of the medications your plan covers. Also, your specific plan may not cover all of the medications in this document.

Some plans have specific coverage requirements for specialty medications.

For example, your plan may:

- › Limit coverage to a 30-day supply.
- › Cover certain medications under the pharmacy benefit, medical benefit, or under both benefits.

These medications have an asterisk (*) next to them. Why does this matter? Because the benefit your medication is covered under may:

- Affect the amount you pay for it.
- Mean you need approval from Cigna before your plan will cover it.
- Require you to use a specific pharmacy to receive coverage.

For example, if your medication is covered under the pharmacy benefit, you may have to use Accredo, a Cigna specialty pharmacy, to receive coverage.<sup>3</sup> If it's covered under the medical benefit and you're getting it from your health care provider, you may not have to use Accredo.

Log in to the myCigna® App or website, or check your plan materials, to learn more about the specialty medications your plan covers. You can also click on "Price a Medication" to see how much your medication may cost you.<sup>4</sup>
